“Employment is nature’s physician and is essential to human happiness.”

– Galen

At the Garth Homer Society, we believe that all people want to have purpose in their daily life. They want to build meaningful relationships, contribute to the community and play a valuable role in their employment choices.

Our Supported Employment Services program is based on finding meaningful employment for adults with developmental disabilities. Our services promote increased independence through employment and help program participants earn a fair wage for purposeful employment.

Developing skills and finding purposeful employment

Through an extensive ‘getting to know you’ process, our job coaches work with program participants to explore their individual abilities and interests. We then connect those attributes with employment options. Our job developers work with employers to identify and create specific tasks and duties that are not only essential to the employer, but help program participants demonstrate their full potential.

Why not come and interview us?

At the Garth Homer Society, we are dedicated and committed to supporting our clients in their goals for independent employment.
